SNOW STORM SETS TOWN BACK $13,500

Last Friday night's snowstorm set the town back about $13,500 up to Tuesday night, according to S. Alfred Benson, clerk of the Board of Public Works. Ten inches of snow fell. While it was a dry snow there was a lot of it. At the beginning of the storm, the flakes were granular and did not pack down. This made removal more difficult and the fact that in many places they fell on an icy surface made the work even harder.

The roads were plowed out soon after the storm and the sidewalks were cleared but trucks are still busy carting away the snow and in many places it is still piled high. After the storm there were calls for sand from various sections of the town. Warmer weather melted the snow in places, then it froze again with slippery going as a result.

State Association Entertained by Mission Circle

The Mission Circle of the Universalist church was hostess for the meeting of the Massachusetts Association of Universalist Women last Thursday. Mrs. George H. Ball of Swampscott, state president, welcomed the women from all parts of the state, numbering 200. Miss Katharine Yerrinton, president of the home circle, in a graciously worded greeting, voiced the sentiment of friendliness and cooperation which prevailed throughout the day's proceedings. Rev. Robert M. Rice was called upon to review briefly the Arlington church centenary.

The first speaker, Mrs. John H. Hollis, told of the widespread work of the Juvenile Court as she repeatedly asked, "How much do you care?" She was followed by Miss Ida M. Folsom, promotional secretary of the organization, who sounded the "Call to Church Women."

The delicious luncheon served at 12:30 o'clock was in charge of Mrs. Lester W. Collins, assisted by Mesdames Jones, Ratcliffe, Benche.

Miss Margaret Muller, daughter of Mrs. William A. Muller, chairman of the Arlington campaign, points to the local goal which must be met if Arlington is to fulfill its obligations to the thousands of fellow townspeople who depend upon the united services of Arlington Community Chest and Greater Boston Community Fund agencies.

URGES REDOUBLED EFFORTS ON COMMUNITY FUND WORKERS

Only Eight of Twenty-One Thousand Given So Far. Chairman Warns that Local Agencies Will Suffer.

Warning that local service agencies may suffer if Arlington does not reach its Community Fund quota, Mrs. William A. Muller, town chairman, announces that less than half the goal of $21,000 has been reached with only a few days to go.

In a statement on the progress of the campaign, Mrs. Muller said only $8,000 has been contributed so far. The drive ends Wednesday. She urged every solicitor to double his efforts so Arlington can go over the top and appealed to the citizens of the town to give generously in support of the fine work done by agencies participating in the Community Fund.

Citing the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association as an example, Mrs. Muller said this organization has given the town 37 years of faithful service. In 1940, she said, free nursing visits were given to 2,946 patients.

Other Arlington social service agencies in the Community Fund are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Social Service League, St. James Branch of the Catholic Women's Guild, St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Arlington Boys Club. All these organizations merit support for the excellent work they do throughout the year.

Mrs. Muller urges that all who have given to the fund wear their red feathers and display the community fund emblem on their win-

Orchids from a Holly Grower

Buick SUPER Sedan, $1185.*

ORDINARILY we don't go in for owner-testimonials.

But every now and then, along comes a letter that so perfectly portrays the way Buick owners feel about their cars that we haven't the heart to keep it from you.

Here, for example, we quote from Mr. Ambrose Brownell, English holly grower of Milwaukie, Ore.

"... When I drove that '41 SUPER out of Flint... and started a circle trip home... I jotted down each gas purchase and mileage to sort of figure my expenses...

"It wasn't long before I got suspicious of something wrong... The gas gauge needle just didn't go down fast enough...

"But, Roy, all the way home it was the same story. The Buick wormed through miles of city traffic... made numberless stops to inquire directions, purred along in sizzling heat that made my feet feel like two fried eggs, breezed over the Rockies at 9,000 elevation... and finally fairly stole home through the sinuous Columbia Gorge.

"Statistics? Of course: 3,200 miles; 165 gallons... Ethyl gas; 19.51 miles per gallon; gas expense—1⁷/₁₀₀¢ per mile; total out-of-pocket expense—1²⁸/₁₀₀¢ per mile.

"... Roy, I'm glad I bought a Buick."

Arlington Young Men Enjoy Iliad, N. Y., Rink

Grant R. Joslin, Jr., of 33 Westminster avenue went to Iliad, N. Y., last week to work as construction foreman at the Remington Arms plant there which is being rehabilitated. He found there his neighbor, George I. Savage, Jr., of 68 Westmoreland avenue, who is secretary to the engineering department.

Both young men were particularly pleased with the skating rink which this small town provides for its citizens. It is back of the High School building where shoes are checked free of charge. Flood lights mounted on a house in the center of the rink illuminate the ice while from within the house broadcast records furnish music for the skaters. Of course the ice is kept clear of snow.

STATE ASSOCIATION ENTERTAINED BY MISSION CIRCLE

Fillmore, Hawkins and Miss Edith Winn. The hostesses included Mesdames Mead, Bicknell, Needham, Osborne, C. Florence Smith, Gray, Duhig and Bertha Smith.

So great was the demand for tickets that many thoughtful home church women gave up their reservations to visiting guests.

The afternoon session was prefaced with a short musicale, and included organ and piano duets—"Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach, and Mozart's Larchetto from his Clarinet quintet, played by Margaret H. Sandberger (organ) and Miss Katharine I. Yerrinton at the piano. They also accompanied Wesley Boynton, tenor soloist in "If with All Your Hearts" by Mendelssohn, and "O Lord, Most Holy" by Cesar Franck.

Miss Margaret Slattery, always a dynamic speaker, thrilled her listeners in her topic, "Dead End Religion." She claimed that all humanitarian work had had its beginnings in the church long before the government had realized the need, and urged that if churches have reached a dead end the only salvation is to back out and meet today's problems with a live, up-to-date religion.

dows to increase enthusiasm for the campaign.

Storm and Grippe Delay Returns

At a recent meeting of workers at the local headquarters, Mrs. Muller made the following statement: "I do not believe we have cause to worry at this time. The big storm, together with the continued prevalence of grippe colds has naturally delayed returns from the residential districts. I strongly urge all solicitors to complete their assignments as soon as possible and not put it off until the last days. We want final returns by next Monday evening. If we work, rather than worry, I am confident the good people of Arlington will not let our agencies down in this crucial year. We have a trust to fulfill and we must work night and day until it is accomplished."

Brayton D. Fisher, chairman of employee solicitation, and his staff of business men have been busy in spite of the storm and he hopes to have a complete report of his division by the end of this week.

Benjamin F. Hickey, chairman of the residential group, has been going throughout the town assisting directors and captains in trying to effect complete coverage of the town. Mr. Hickey believes there are some of the townspeople who do not realize the significance of Arlington joining with the Greater Boston Community Fund and urges his workers to impress on the residents the fact that there will be but one drive this year.

Who Is to Eat Stuffed Crow?

Not all of the local officers are worried about the outcome of the drive. Paul Vonckx, president of the Arlington Chest, is quite optimistic. Last week an officer of the Boston committee, who resides in Winchester, made the statement that if Arlington exceeds her quota on a percentage basis more than Winchester exceeds its quota that he would eat a stuffed crow. Following this statement a stuffed crow strangely disappeared from some trophy room in Arlington to appear mysteriously in the hands of Paul Vonckx at a "Dutch treat" luncheon of Fund workers in Boston. Accepting the challenge from Winchester, Mr. Vonckx held the crow aloft and stated to the amusement of all present, "This crow I understand is edible, even though a little dusty."

Now adorned with red feathers, the crow has a place of honor at the Boston Chamber of Commerce luncheon, waiting until the end of the drive, to be devoured by the gentleman from Winchester, we hope.

The Crescent Club of the Heights Methodist church had a very pleasant bowling party Monday evening on the alleys in Harvard Square. Rev. Richard T. Broeg was roller of the high string. Soda Water Bottlers Re-elect J. C. Shea

The Eastern Soda Water Bottlers' Association held a most successful convention with the finest exhibit in the history of the industry at Horticultural Hall, Boston, recently. Business sessions were featured by addresses by prominent State and National officials. Geo. S. Derry of Philadelphia and past-president of the National Bottlers' Organization, presented a silver-plated inscribed gavel to President J. Claude Shea of the Eastern Soda Water Bottlers as a token of appreciation for the achievements of the latter association in behalf of the industry.

The convention session closed with the election of officers for the ensuing year. Mr. Shea of the Colonial Beverage Company of Cambridge was re-elected president. Mr. Shea, who now lives just over the line in Belmont, is a former resident of Arlington, is still active in Arlington affairs and has many friends here.

Grippe and colds affect Railroad men same as any other people. Sickness leaves all departments undermanned. Switches freeze; get full of snow—make up in yards is delayed. But management says, "Be safe—do things right." Trains are delayed a few minutes backing into station. Passengers stand on one foot and then on the other—but the handicap of illness and hard weather causes no accidents.

BUT TODAY it's a nice, clear winter day. Normal trains are running out of town—there to wait until morning to bring you back to town again. Suddenly, a storm breaks. Will there be an extra rush? Will the roads be plowed in time to allow the motorists to drive to town? Nobody knows. The train that's out there has cars enough to take care of all regular riders. The rush comes—roads are blocked. So—once more at some stations—it's standing room only on the B and M.

Dramatic Club to Bring Henry to Town Hall

"What a Life," which is to be presented on February 15 by the Arlington High School Dramatic Club at the Robbins Memorial Town Hall, is a tender story of a very young love. Harry Hanson plays the role of the indomitable Henry and Faye Williams is co-starred with him. The leading characters are supported by Terry Shuman, Connie Wilshire, Robert Strong and many others.

This is the same Henry whose trials and tribulations everyone has been following on the radio and the same Henry who made New York audiences laugh for two years.

Brookline Again Defeats Arlington

Arlington's losing streak was stretched to five games last Friday afternoon, when Brookline took a 32-27 decision in Lowe Auditorium. Again the locals went out in front only to lose in the final moments. Brookline's margin may be attributed to the fact that they sunk twelve out of sixteen foul shots, while the Red and Gray continued to miss most of its opportunities. Someone figured that if Arlington had made good on half their free throws in each game they would be undefeated now. This isn't far wrong.

Captain Tommy Cotter chucked a pair of baskets in the opening period and his team was leading by a narrow 6-5 margin. The visitors came back strong in the second period to go ahead 16-10 at the half. Arlington was far from through, however, and the score board read 23-22 in Brookline's favor at the three-quarter mark. A last period drive brought a Red and Blue victory.

Cotter and Young shared scoring honors with fourteen points apiece. Brookline's back court combine of Nixon and Meehan, probably the two best guards in the league, did a great deal for their team's cause by piling up another fourteen points between them. The Arlington seconds continued to show better form in downing the invaders 29-20 in a fast preliminary.

Rindge Tech continued to reign supreme in the Suburban League, with a 34-29 win over Waltham. Brookline is the only team with much of a chance to interrupt the Technicians' march, but they certainly will have to step to do it. The summary:

ARLINGTON LOSES TO RINDGE BY ONE GOAL

Red and Gray Puckchasers Now in Seventh Place.

Rindge Tech came from behind last Saturday afternoon at the Garden to eke out a 3-2 verdict over Charlie Downs' puckchasers. The Melrose winning streak was halted after eight consecutive victories, when Newton scored two third-period goals to gain a 2-2 tie. Cambridge Latin trimmed Medford, 5-3, and Stoneham whipped lowly Belmont, 6-3, in another free scoring affair. Although the Melrose boys were tied, their hold on first place is safe, with Rindge and Newton deadlocked in second position, two full games in the rear of the high-flying El Ponders. Arlington is bracketed in seventh place but they are only three points behind Cambridge Latin, the second division leaders.

Arlington was at full strength for the contest in which the locals came very close to pulling a major upset. Allie Burns put his team off on the right foot when he fired home a twenty-footer at 1:55 in the first period. The Red and Gray fought hard for the next few minutes but they lost their advantage at 10:18. Desrosiers picked up the puck in center ice, skated into Arlington territory, and passed to Moulton, who registered the first Tech tally.

The second period was almost a repetition of the the opener, with Arlington again taking the lead, only to lose it in the final moments. Blanchard set up Bennett at 3:45 and the locals were one goal to the good. Arlington then made a couple of fast rushes, but Powers turned aside all they could offer and then Benoit tied the game at 10:48 with Verrier getting an assist. Verrier fired the clincher at 2:07 in the final period. Gagnon being credited with an assist. Although the Red and Gray turned on the pressure for the next ten minutes in an effort to connect with another goal, they were forced to be satisfied with another licking by their

Basketball, Hockey On H. S. Schedule

Coach George Fusco's courtmen will be striving for their second victory Friday afternoon, when Newton journeys to Arlington. The Orange and Black holds a four-point win over the locals from about three weeks back. Arlington has the advantage of playing on the home court and what is more important, the boys now have the confidence necessary to win. Tuesday afternoon, Cotter leads his team against Rindge at Cambridge. The Technicians are a little too fast for the locals but there is such things as upsets.

Arlington's hockey team resumes a normal pace after three games last week, when they play Cambridge Latin at the Arena on Saturday. The game is listed as the third on a four-attraction card. Cambridge was extremely lucky to escape with a one to nothing victory in their first meeting, while the locals were skating rings around them. Saturday's game should be a different story.

ARLINGTON BEATS CAMBRIDGE LATIN

After five straight Suburban League defeats, Captain Tommy Cotter's cohorts took a 34-28 decision from Cambridge Latin Tuesday afternoon at Cambridge, for their first victory. As usual, Cotter was the main cog in the Red and Gray machine but for the first time this year, the Arlington guards were able to score. Moreover, the locals made good on eight foul shots while their opponents were only able to chalk up six points from the line. Although Rindge was idle, their hold on first place was tightened due to the fact that Waltham upset Brookline 35-30 in a thrilling overtime affair.

The Arlington quintet went out and took a 9-6 lead in the first period. They increased this to 19-12 by half time and then were leading 26-19 at the three quarter. The Latin lads were far from beaten, however, and with Jones leading the attack, they pulled up to a 28-28 score with only two minutes to play. This time it was Arlington that put on the final victory drive. Cotter, John Burke and Ryholm each dropped a field goal to make the final 34-28.

Perhaps the most encouraging thing about the victory was the fact that Johnny Burke found the strings three times from the middle of the court and Jimmy Maloney added another five points. With this pair scoring from the guard positions the locals will be able to keep up with most of their opposition. Captain Cotter aided himself in his fight to retain league scoring honors by tossing fifteen points. Jones, Cantab guard, was right behind him with fourteen.

The Cambridge Latin reserves paraded to a 19-11 victory in the preliminary.

—George Francis of 19 Medford street was taken to Symmes Hospital in a police scout car early yesterday morning to be treated for a lacerated upper lip received when he was assaulted by an unknown man on Washington street, Boston.

VICTORY OVER ARLINGTON PUTS NEWTON SECOND

Newton High moved into second place in the Greater Boston League race behind the undefeated Melrose sextet by virtue of a 4-3 victory over Captain Art Blanchard's crew, in Friday's twin bill at the Garden. In the other half of the program, Medford rolled over Belmont by a 4-1 margin. The league leaders and Stoneham shared the honors in Thursday's session with Rindge and Cambridge Latin the victors.

Although the score shows only a one-goal advantage, the Newton boys clearly outplayed their opponents, who managed to cut the victory margin down with a pair of third period tallies. Jack Harvey, second line winger, pushed in a pair of goals for Coach Downs to capture the individual honors. Captain Blanchard took part in the game, despite a weak ankle but Herbie Ritchie was forced to watch proceedings from the bench.

Stan Collinson put the Orange and Black out in front at 9:27 in the first period. After several minutes of torrid battling, he took a pass from Corcoran to beat Bevins with a shot that just missed the post. Newton made it three to nothing in the middle chapter before the locals could pass McKenna. At 2:49 Joe Beatty scored on a blue line shot with Corcoran getting credit for another assist. One minute later Carvelli cut loose with a long shot that was partially screened and the count was 3-0. Ellingwood was given an assist on Carvelli's goal. Finally Harvey broke the ice when at 7:27 he took a pass from McArdle to score.

White flashed the red light for Newton at the three minute mark in the third period to regain the three goal margin. Ellingwood and Carvelli were given assists on this rather fluky goal that trickled into the corner after a scramble in front of the net. Harvey took a pass from Cunha at 4:17 for his second score and Eddie Bennett counted with an unassisted effort just thirty seconds before the gong. The summary:

BASKETBALL NOTES

The Boys' Club, minus Cud and Joe Tobin and Tommie Cotter of last year's team, will have to shoot a lot of baskets to hold their championship against the Rangers, Pals, Quincy A. C. et al. They still have a swell team, however, depend upon Deane Moores for that, and the addition of Danny O'Brien and Shanty Hogan will help out a lot.

The Rangers, the nine old men, as Pat Reddan calls them—include Franny Keefe, John Driscoll, Joe Donahue and George Lowder of Arlington's 1929 Tech Tournament winners, with some young bloods, like Bert Lindvall, of Softball pitching fame, Mike Burke of the old Royals, Normie Belden and Charlie Lowder—a formidable aggregation in any league.

The Pals are the same old ready-for-anything Pals, minus Danny O'Brien and Hogan, but with Joe Cormier and Jerry Harwood added, so they still measure up with the best.

The Olympics, one of the younger teams last year, have their team intact, a year's experience playing together, and a determination to win a lot of games this year—which they will, from the best of them.

The Quincy A. C. are the old Purple Invaders and Forest A. C. combined, and with a generous sprinkling of Royals, all fast, experienced players. They are a potential winner and a sure trouble maker.

The Eagles, led by John Sulli-

QUINCY A. C. AND PALS TIED FOR LEAGUE HONORS

The Quincy A. C. and the Pals, with two wins and no losses each, are tied up for the top honors in the Arlington Basketball League, sponsored by the local Adult Recreation project. Both teams won their games this week, the Pals defeating the Olympics by a close score, 35 to 32, and the Quincy A. C. winning easily from the Cardinals, 53 to 28.

The Quincy A. C., greatly strengthened this year by the addition of Dan Casey, Eddie Teeven, Carlo Coppola, and Johnny Cashman from last year's Royals, look like one of the best teams in the league and promise to make plenty of trouble for the Boys' Club, last year's champs, and the Rangers and Pals.

The best game of the week was the close battle between the Pals and the Olympics Monday night at Junior High East. The Olympics took an early lead when their speed dazzled the Pals and at the half they enjoyed a three-basket lead. With a possible defeat confronting them, the Pals tightened their belts in the last period and pulled the game out of the fire by three points.

The Cardinals after holding and leading the fast Quincy A. C. in the first half, went to pieces in the final half, due to lack of reserves, and dropped their second game by a wide margin. Other results for the week were, Pals 52, Peter Pan Club 24; and Boys' Club 50, Eagles 30.

The Peter Pan Club, just organized, with Luke Donahue from last year's Boys' Club team, Tom McCarthy and Al Bowman, have potential strength and are this year's "dark horse" of the league.

The Cardinals, with Frankie Santos, Joe Correia, Mike Anastos and Dan Collins for a nucleus, present a strong and fast first team but at present lack reserves—when they get 'em, other teams take notice.

"Little Nellie Kelly"

Starts Sunday

A very inexpensive but none the less entertaining bit of screen activity is Judy Garland's "Little Nellie Kelly," which starts Sunday for three days. It is a drama with music. Miss Garland, who is becoming quite an attractive young lady, has the lead and, odd as it may seem, she has become more famous in this back lot role than the super spectacular "Wizard of Oz" would have you believe. This George M. Cohan success also features George Murphy and Charles Winninger. Miss Garland's last

"Blackout"

Veidt Film No. 1

From war-torn England comes a motion picture, "Blackout," filmed in the London studios under real-life blackouts. It stars Valerie Hobson and Conrad Veidt.

Scarcely a week goes by—a day, when some new war film isn't released. The poor movie-goer must not only sit in dark halls squinting at horrifying newsreel accounts of overseas destruction, he must also see his favorite emotion-tossers become concerned in foreign entanglements.

"Blackout" has its moments of mystery and suspense. Principally, however, it becomes a filmed document against the element hostile to England. And if you do not know who England's enemies are consult the headlines.

"Room Service"

"Mr. Chips"

For Review

A pair of darby motion pictures have been billed as co-attractions for Wednesday, February 5, one day only by the College movie house. "Goodbye, Mr. Chips," starring Robert Donat. "Room Service," a Marx Brothers nightmare.

"Goodbye, Mr. Chips" is distinguished screen entertainment. It has glory, power and in Robert Donat's final speech, depth. Mr. Donat acquires a distinct personal victory as the great Mr. Chippie, having been acclaimed not only by critic and fan alike, but also by the Academy Award for 1939 which was presented him a year ago.

"The Thief of Bagdad"

Starts Thursday

Veidt Film No. 2

Sabu, super wonder child star protegee of England's distinguished Mr. Korda and recent visitor to Boston, has the outstanding advantage of not only succeeding in a role played last by America's senior Douglas Fairbanks, but also of being a big part of some revolutionary photography he himself is sworn to keep secret.

"The Thief of Bagdad" is Mr. Korda's first oriental epic since his unimpeachable "Four Fathoms." With a giant cast this film was photographed on locked ectoplasm sets in the London Studios, driven en masse to America for completion because of the war and finally finished in the rear of schedule with a total expenditure of two million American greenbacks.

The fabulously important English star, Conrad Veidt, i.e. "Power," plays the Magician Jaffar with John Justin and June Duprez. "The Thief of Bagdad" is a mystifying, amazing photoplay that delves into astonishing camera trickery heretofore undreamed of, but with trimmings. And technicolor.

The co-feature will be "The Lady with the Red Hair," boasting of Mr. Claude Rains as David Belasco and Miriam Hopkins, another recent Boston visitor, as the dramatic Mrs. Leslie Carter.

The Study Club met at the home of Mrs. Herbert A. Snow for coffee on Tuesday. Mrs. G. Franklin Gruber and Mrs. Snow were hostesses and Mrs. Cuiillo and Mrs. Souster poured.

The program meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Verne Q. Powell. Old prints, photographs, music and souvenirs arranged by the art committee, made an interesting exhibit to illustrate old Boston. Paintings by young Arlington artists of today were also displayed. Mrs. Powell read a paper on "Composers and Musicians," tracing the evolution of music in America from the earliest psalm tunes to the present day with especial emphasis on Dr. Lowell Mason, McDowell, Margaret Lang, Mrs. H. H. Beach, and Mabel Daniels. These were illustrated by John Gillan, flutist, and Stanley Souster, pianist. Mr. Souster also sang baritone solos, and his own composition, "All Hail to Thee, America" won especial praise.

The Tuna Fish Loaf

That Tastes Like
Chicken

by Dorothy Greig

THE last time we had tuna fish loaf one of the guests remarked "this is certainly a delicious chicken loaf"—which made me smile a little. It does have a through-and-through chicken flavor though, thanks to a can of condensed chicken soup which is blended right into the loaf mixture. The double rich chicken stock with its tender diced chicken meat add all that flavor.

Another thing—the loaf is good served either hot or cold, and it slices neatly. Also, chilled and sliced thin, it makes a good substantial filling for sandwiches. Or cut into cubes it can be used for a main dish salad. This is how to make it:

1 can condensed chicken soup
1 can tuna fish (7 oz. size)
1 1/4 cups soft bread crumbs
1 tablespoon pimiento, chopped
1 tablespoon parsley, chopped
2 eggs

Strain the rice, celery and chicken from the chicken soup. Combine them with the tuna fish (which has been put into a strainer and 1 cup of hot water poured over it) and put all through the food chopper. Then mix with the soft bread crumbs, the chicken soup, chopped pimiento, parsley and eggs. Put into a buttered loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven (350°) 45-60 minutes or until firm. Serves 4-5.

EFFICIENT DEMOCRACY

The character of Arlington has changed tremendously in the past forty years. In 1900 its population was 8,603, while today it is over 40,000. At the turn of the century the town was still known for its farms; now there are few farms left. Most of them are real estate developments with houses standing in close ranks where celery and lettuce once grew.

With this growth have come changes in the town government. In the old days it was ruled by the New England town meeting, which has been described as the most democratic form of government in the world. It ceased to be democratic, however, when the Town Hall could no longer hold the voters. Then there was substituted for it the representative Town Meeting—a more truly democratic form, since it assures representation to every part of the town.

As the town grew another change came about. In the old days every man knew his neighbor and every one in town was his neighbor. Consequently, it was easy for him to appraise the qualifications of the candidates for office. He knew whether Bill Jones was honest and capable, whether he managed his own affairs well and might be expected to do as well by the town as he did by himself.

Today, a man may know his next door neighbor by sight but quite possibly that is all. Residents of other sections he does not know, unless he has met them in church or at club meetings. However sociable he may be, however regular an attendant at church and P. T. A. meetings, it is possible for him to know only a small proportion of the townspeople and impossible for him to judge accurately the qualifications of many of the candidates for office.

This is one of the reasons for a more recent agitation for further changes in the government. In 1932, a committee report advocating the coalition of certain departments and making appointive some positions now elective, failed to secure the approval of the voters.

Within the past month or two the Taxpayers' Association has shown a revived interest in this report and has questioned the members of the committee that framed it. In connection with this, G. Bertram Washburn has made charts showing the government as it is today, as it would be if the recommendations of the 1932 committee were followed and as it would be if other suggested changes were made. These charts, which graphically picture the relations between the different town departments and the town officials, will be displayed in the three sections of the town.

The interest of the Taxpayers is, naturally, in reducing the cost of the town government while retaining or increasing its efficiency. And this is the interest of all citizens if, while the cost is reduced and efficiency increased, democracy is retained.

In the end, the government in a democracy depends on its citizens. So it does in Arlington.

We have always had a good government—capable and honest officials. Our town for the most part has been well run. Our schools are good, our streets are clean, our fire and police departments efficient. Some of our citizens can think of desirable improvements but we have had no scandals and it has not been necessary for us to have our snow removed by prayer.

All this is probably not luck but the result of the attention that many of our citizens have given to the government. Now it might be well for all of us to give it a little more attention. Mr. Washburn's charts will be worth studying. We can learn from them how our government works. That knowledge may help us to vote intelligently at the annual town election, only a little over four weeks away and it may also prove useful at the Town Meeting six weeks from now.

MORE PERFORMERS NEEDED

By Earl A. Ryder

Those who attended the performance of "The Messiah" at Christmas time had a taste of Arlington enterprise which prompts word as bearing on the future. The world is full of a number of things which take the curse off its shortcomings. Arlington has several of these, including musical groups. The new Philharmonic Society can be cultivated into an organization of untold value as an opportunity for those who love music in the mass, to perform or listen.

Many are the volunteers who like to play an instrument or to raise a voice in a large ensemble. But the Arlington concerts, praiseworthy as they have been over the last several years, fall to the extent that not enough local volunteers have awakened to the call. From small beginnings, the past year finally has brought forth joint organization embracing both an orchestra and a chorus under the name of the Philharmonic Society of Arlington, Inc.

This well established group has given a fall concert and "The Messiah". Two other concerts are planned for the season, including the annual "pops" late in the spring. The society needs more participating and more sustaining members. A wide range of good music, orchestral and vocal, is offered. What is needed especially for satisfying results is performers who will give time for enough rehearsals, conveniently spaced, to make a well coordinated group.

Those in the town who love choral and orchestral music are urged to align themselves with the new society in active or sustaining membership for the advancement of another phase of our progressive community.

A demonstration of arithmetic will be given by Miss Pauline H. Stuart, principal of the Parmenter and Russell Schools, and her pupils at the Saturday morning section

News Briefs

Il Duce packs his son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano off to the front. He remains foreign minister in name only. This move foretells others, internally and externally.

The C.B.S., despite official Italian denials, describes soldiers fighting by the side of rebels in Milan and other Italian cities. Is this another German coup or do the Italian people want to rid themselves of Mussolini? Meanwhile, German soldiers pour into Italy through Brenner Pass.

Premier Antonescu quells the Iron Guard revolt in Rumania, in which the Reich plays a definite part. It's said the Germans keep both sides guessing, thereby encouraging anarchy—in the end to take command.

Bulgaria still hesitates between succumbing to Nazi pressure and banking on British and American aid.

Londoners question, "Why this ominous silence from German bombing planes?" as the R. A. F. bomb objectives in Germany.

Hitler hopes to draw fighting units from England, to weaken the British navy before he strikes—maybe.

Marshal Petain picks a super council of 188 members to help him govern France. He still hopes to outwit Laval?

De Gaulle again announces that the Free French Empire will rush to Britain's side at the first move of Hitler to enter French Africa.

Japan scores by having its offer to mediate the Thailand-French Indo-China dispute accepted by Vichy.

President Roosevelt sends Lauchlin Currie to Chungking, making clear his determination to aid Free China, Japan notwithstanding.

Colonel Lindbergh advocates a "negotiated peace" in the European war as preferable to victory by either side. He renews the charge that Roosevelt envoys deceived France and that they would get active American assistance.

German newspapers commend Colonel Lindbergh for his "courageous, exemplary statement."

William C. Bullitt former Ambassador to France, offers documentary correspondence, apparently refuting the above accusation as he hands the charge "German propaganda."

In personally greeting Viscount Halifax, six miles from his shores, President Roosevelt gives proof of his cordial welcome thus heartening the English, says Roscoe Drummond: "Because he wanted to send a message of meaning—not too subtle—to Berlin and Rome and he knew there was no better psychological antidote for a Hitler-Mussolini conference on the Brenner than a Roosevelt-Halifax handshake on the Potomac. Because he wanted by an extraordinary act to symbolize to the democracies and to the dictators that the English-speaking world is today united in an extraordinary way."

"He did it."

Says the editor of the Monitor:—"For effective unity on foreign policy the President needs not only popular support on broad policies but continuing Congressional support on methods. Winston Churchill today gets such support under the English system since he and his Cabinet act as the agents of Parliament and consult with it. A possible informal procedure to achieve a similar purpose in America's emergency would be a small congressional committee which the President could call into frequent consultation on major steps in meeting the totalitarian challenge."

"Such an arrangement would help greatly to get unity and speed, not only on the lend-lease bill but on other necessary national decisions in a developing crisis."

Miss Margaret Frawley describes the French prison camps as unspeakable. Germans send "Jewish inmates of institutions for insane and feeble-minded herded with criminals, political suspects and foreign refugees."

Astronomers denounce astrology as "magical practice." The Federal Communications Commission rules astrologers off the air as "fraudulent and against the public interest."

Robert Jackson, Attorney General, discloses that the government has the "majority of potentially disloyal persons" under close and constant surveillance, and that the F.B.I. has a personnel of more than 15,000 persons protecting national defense.

Dr. Einstein, the great scientist, proves himself no mean violinist as he plays a program at Princeton, New Jersey, for refugee children in England.

Katharine F. Lenroot, Chief of the Children's Bureau, reports a 50 per cent falling off of factory employment of 14 and 15-year-old boys and girls, between 1937 and 1939.

Hair stylists predict pompadours in 1941; back to the "Gibson Girl."

The public schools of Chicago and New York ask that religion be taught in churches every day; pupils to be excused from school for instruction and to receive credit for the work done in church schools. In grade schools (Chicago) 1000 already receive such instruction. Says Dean Weigle of Yale University Divinity School: "We must keep sectarianism out of our public schools. But that does not necessitate stripping them of religion. To exclude religion from public schools is to surrender to sectarianism or atheism or irreligion."

"I know, but I won't tell," says the President as he is asked who is to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Justice James C. McReynolds from the Supreme Court.

Entertainment.—Thursday evening the parlors of the Unitarian church were crowded with an audience called together to witness the performance of a programme arranged for their entertainment by the committee. It opened with a very prettily rendered solo by Miss Lawrence and Alfred Norton, Esq., followed with a reading, and Rev. G. W. Cutter performed a violin solo in so fine a manner as to call forth a hearty encore.

Conditions far from favorable

The announcement made late in the afternoon of last Friday that the postponed carnival of the New England Skating Association would be held on Spy Pond on the following day, came as a surprise to Arlington people familiar with the condition of the ice.

The day proved one of the most charming (overhead) of the whole season, and as the wind held cool from the west, hope for good ice conditions sustained a degree of enthusiasm among the several committees. This was all crowded into

New orders received during the period exceeded actual deliveries by approximately 500 units and were 112 per cent ahead of a year ago, he said.

Overflow Crowd at Organ Dedication

Despite the difficulties of winter travel, the dedication service for the new Wicks pipe organ and Deagan chimes in the Arlington Heights Baptist church last Sunday night drew an overflow crowd. Long before the hour of service every available seat in the auditorium and gallery was taken as L. W. Richardson opened the service with an address of welcome. The tribute to the late Andrew W. Freeman, in whose memory the organ was dedicated, was read by Mrs. George A. Brine, while Rev. Ralph F. Palmer, former pastor of the church and now Professor in Gordon College, gave the dedicatory prayer. A twenty minute organ recital was then presented by Mrs. E. L. Reed, organist of the church, whose masterful renditions demonstrated the splendid tone and quality of the newly installed instrument. The dedication sermon was preached by the pastor of the church, Rev. Walter E. Bridge, on the subject, "Christ The Master Musician."

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

In all Christian Science Churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, February 2, on the subject: "Love."

The Golden Text will be: "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee" (Jeremiah 31:3). Bible selections will include the following passage from I John 3:18,23: "My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth. . . . And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment."

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon reads as follows: "Love one another" (I John, iii. 23), is the most simple and profound counsel of the inspired writer. In Science we are children of God; but whatever is of material sense, or mortal, belongs not to His children, for materiality is the inverted image of spirituality" (p. 572).

church during their residence here. Cambridge was later selected as their home. Mrs. Stickney attended the schools of that city and later was graduated from the Boston Art School. She was married in Cambridge.

Her Arlington home has reflected her artistic taste, while her sparkling personality and magnetic charm have made for her a host of friends. She was for many years an active member of the Belmont Dramatic Club and in the first dramatic performance given by the Arlington Woman's Club, of which she was a charter member, she was selected to play the leading role.

Mrs. Stickney was a member of the Arlington Historical Society and of the Hannah Winthrop Chapter, D. A. R. of Cambridge. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Hosmer Ayer (Adelaide) Johnson of Marblehead, and Mrs. Pierpont Morgan (Rebecca) Hamilton of New York city; two brothers, Wellington Wells of Chesham, N. H., and Florida, formerly of Boston, who at one time was president of the Massachusetts State Senate, and Harrison G. Wells of Chicago, Ill., and three grandchildren. She was a sister of the late Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore of New York.

The funeral service was held yesterday afternoon at St. John's Episcopal church, where Mrs. Stickney had been identified. The rector, Rev. Charles Taber Hall, conducted the services and Rev. Laurence L. Barber, minister of the Orthodox Congregational church, read a very beautiful poem.

Varia Study Club Hears International News Head

The members of the Varia Study Club met on Monday, at the home of Mrs. Harold Scott, 142 Wachusett avenue. In the absence of the president, Miss Bernadine Brooks, vice-president, presided over the business meeting. A substantial donation to the Community Chest was voted.

The club was fortunate to have as guest speaker, David W. Chute, assistant manager of the Boston office of the International News Service. Mr. Chute explained the functions of the International News Service, which together with the United Press and the Associated Press, supplies our country with foreign news.

He stated the cost of cabling from abroad varied from five cents per word for British dispatches, to as much as nine-tenths of a cent per word for news from the Balkans. In time of war, these prices increase. Foreign news is cabled to the New York office, and then sent over the wires by teletype to the company's bureaus all over the United States.

In an informal manner, Mr. Chute gave his audience an insight into the manner in which the foreign correspondents obtained their news, and under what strict censorship they labored to get it out of the country. He stressed the fact that the press can raise a most powerful voice, so much so that it is the first thing which a dictator will attack in setting up his dictatorship.

Mrs. Edna Stimpson and her committee served refreshments during the social hour which followed.

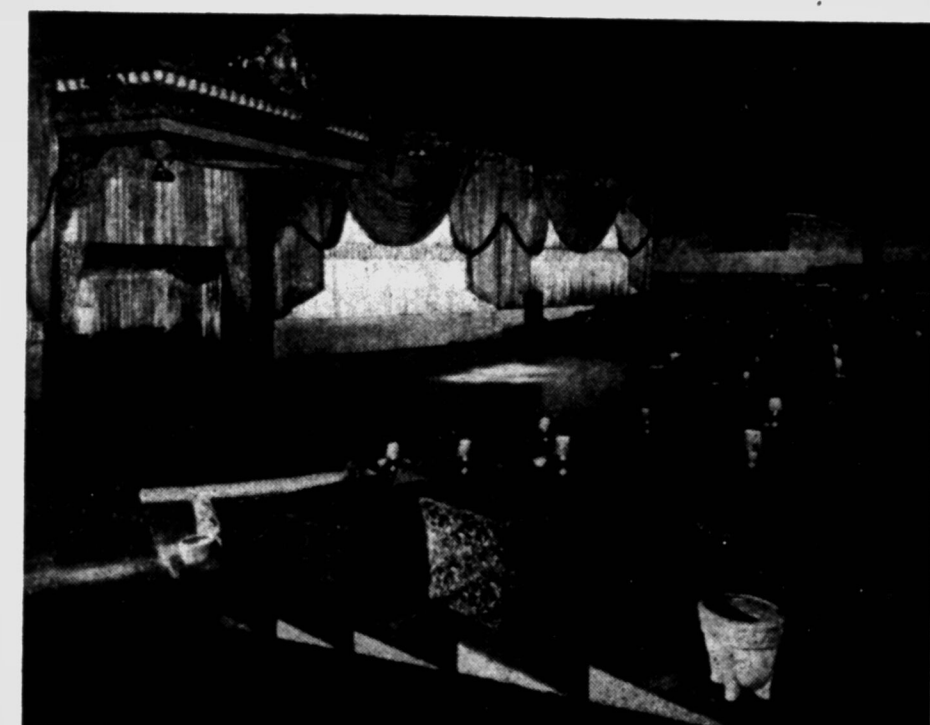

The higher a man is in grace, the lower he will be in his own esteem.

DO YOU KNOW HOW TO DRIVE ON ICY WINTER HIGHWAYS?

Can You Answer These Quiz Questions?

1. Does it help to reduce air pressure in tires when travelling over icy surfaces?
2. When is an icy pavement most dangerous? When the air temperature is 2 degrees above freezing or when it is 2 degrees below freezing?
3. Are tires with good treads much better than smooth tires on icy roads? On wet roads?

4. How do highway departments prevent sand or cinders, used in skidproofing, from blowing off the road or being brushed off by traffic?

5. Can a vehicle with tire chains negotiate icy curves at higher speeds than a vehicle without chains?

6. In what manner should brakes be applied when stopping on an icy surface?

Last winter on Lake Cadillac,

Michigan, the National Safety Council and a group of co-operating agencies conducted an extensive investigation of the problems involved in winter driving. The correct answers to the foregoing questions are found among the interesting and valuable data developed. Substantial reductions in the heavy winter traffic toll can be made if every motorist who quizzes himself on these questions will also read and remember the answers given below.

Left: 3,000 individual tests were made during the investigation of winter driving hazards, some of them being conducted at night. Right: Treated abrasives were spread on the frozen lake surface and demonstrations made of their effectiveness in skidproofing. Photos courtesy National Safety Council

Answers to Highway Safety Quiz

1. The common practice of lowering tire pressure and increasing the load over rear wheels to increase traction on slippery surfaces are not recommended. The resulting increase in traction for stopping is slight, and this is more than offset by reduction of safe speed on curves.
2. Strange though it may seem, icy surfaces are more treacherous at 2 degrees above freezing than they are at 2 degrees below freezing. As temperatures go down, safety on icy surfaces goes up and the stopping distance on ice at 15 degrees is actually 37% less than at 34 degrees.

3. On icy roads, condition of tires does not have much bearing on skidding. In the case of wet roads, however, cars with good treads are definitely better.

4. Practically all highway departments now treat skidproofing abrasives with calcium chloride. This material forms a thin coating around the sand or cinder particles which causes them to melt into the ice and anchor securely. Since calcium chloride is an anti-freeze, it also prevents storage piles of abrasives from freezing and makes spreading on icy roads easy even at sub-zero temperatures.

5. While the use of chains is beneficial in stopping or accelerating on straight sections of icy highways, they do not provide control against rear-end skidding on curves. Chains should be regarded as providing an extra margin of safety at moderately slow speeds, but a margin that disappears if speeds are too fast.

6. In stopping on slippery roads, let the braking power of the engine in high gear slow the vehicle down to about 10-12 miles per hour, using the brakes lightly, if necessary; then disengage the clutch and apply brakes cautiously for the final stop. "Pumping" the brakes lightly off and on is much better than locking the brakes for maintaining control of direction.
